WARREN COUNTY

Fire destroyed the hammerboard plant of Irwin Manufacturing Co. at Garland yesterday morning. The loss was estimated at $175,000. Page One.

Late yesterday morning a fire at the home of John C. Cashmere Jr., 220 Church st., Sheffield, caused only $100 damage, but might have caused much more damage, according to fire officials. Page A2.

A "know your county" survey now being carried out by the League of Women Voters will appear as a series in this newspaper, starting Monday. Page One.

Warren town council will consider a zoning ordinance, the 1967 budget, taxes, a swimming pool complex, and probably at least eight other topics Monday evening. Page B1.

Teachers' salaries will be the main subject at the Monday evening meeting of Warren County District School Board. Page B1.

Substandard health conditions at Hoffman Children's Home were the subject of a meeting yesterday between county commissioners and a state child welfare official. Page B1.

PENNSYLVANIA

Anti-poverty programs were the subject of a conference in Harrisburg Feb. 1 and 2. Warren County was represented at the conference by Richard Brown, local economic opportunity office head, and Norman O. Matthews, representing the Warren Central Labor Council. Page A3.

NEW YORK STATE

Killed in Vietnam Tuesday was a Jamestown, N.Y., native, Spec. 4 Timothy A. Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Olson of 155 Hotchkiss st. Page A2.

THE NATION

If President Johnson succeeds in his present attempt to change his public image, it may be the most significant development of 1967. Page One.

The U.S. Constitution was amended yesterday, as Nevada became the 38th state to ratify the 25th amendment, dealing with presidential succession in case of disability. Page One.

Such pressing urban problems as urban renewal, slum clearance and unemployment were the subject of a speech yesterday by Ohio governor James A. Rhodes, who talked on bond financing as a helpful measure. Page A2.

A 20-man crime division in Michigan started work yesterday as citizens telephoned, offering leads. Page A2.

THE WORLD

Red Guards continued to besiege the Soviet embassy in Peking yesterday, even though the Soviet government had demanded the siege's end Thursday. Page A3.

Soviet Premier Kosygin last night said he supported Red Chinese "struggling against the dictatorial regime of Mao Tse-tung." Page One.

SPORTS

Eisenhower's wrestlers moved into first place in the Southern Tier Conference last night with a 41-15 rout over Pine Valley. Randolph, league leaders before the evening started, dropped to second by losing to Southwestern. Page A6.

The Dragon cagers fell behind 12-0 at the start of last night's game at Titusville and couldn't make up the difference as they dropped a 72-60 decision to the Rockets. Good team work and balanced offense was the big plus in the Dragons' favor. Page A6.

Three county basketball teams recorded wins last night. Youngsville whipped East Forest, 73-51, behind the scoring of Ron Knapp. Eisenhower blasted Tidoute, 80-67 and Sheffield eased by Bradford Central Christian by a 61-46 margin. Page A6.

Titusville's wrestling team avenged an earlier loss to Warren last night by upsetting the Dragons, 24-19. The Dragons took the first four matches, but the Rockets came on strong in the middle to knot the match score, then won by a fall in the heavyweight class. Page A6.

25th Amendment Voted Part of Constitution

By WILLIAM T. PEACOCK
WASHINGTON (AP) — The 25th Amendment, detailing what is to be done if the President becomes unable to perform his duties, went into the U.S. Constitution yesterday.

After a period of confusion, it appeared that Nevada was the 38th state to ratify and thus won the distinction of being the commonwealth which completed adoption of the amendment. Three-fourths of the states must accept an amendment after its passage by Congress before a constitutional change is valid. If precedents are followed, a formal certification ceremony, arranged by the General Services Administration, probably will be held here some time later but this will be just "window dressing" without any legal effect.

The 25th's progress into the Constitution was smooth and fairly rapid.

It was passed by Congress in July 1965, Wisconsin, by technical whisker, became the first state to ratify it on July 13.

What opposition there was tended to center on the provision that a vacancy in the vice presidency should be filled on nomination by the president, subject to confirmation by Congress.

Some critics argued that in effect the president would be hand-picking his potential successor.

The reply from supporters of the provision was that the presidential nominee of a political party commonly handpicks his vice-presidential running mate; that there was no essential difference.

By present law, the speaker of the House succeeds to the presidency if the president dies and there is no vice president. Next in line of succession after the speaker is the president pro tempore of the Senate.

In the absence of any established procedure, President Dwight D. Eisenhower worked out an understanding with then Vice President Richard M. Nixon for Nixon to take over if Eisenhower became unable to perform the presidential duties. Eisenhower had a heart attack and a stroke while president. Johnson had a similar understanding with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey when Johnson had his gall bladder surgery in November 1965.

The 25th Amendment puts this into the nation's basic law. It provides for the vice president to take over as acting president if the president states in writing that he is unable to carry out his duties.

The vice president may also take over if a majority of the Cabinet sends Congress a declaration that the president is unable to carry out his duties.

'TO PREPARE FOR WAR'

Chinese Army Seizes Civil Airport

By KAY TATEISHI
TOKYO (AP)—Red China's army has seized all domestic civil airports and aviation institutes in a move "to prepare for war" and "protect normal flights," a Japanese report from Peking said today.

In the international conflict between the Communist giants, Peking accused the Soviet Union of unilaterally scrapping agreements to abolish visas between the two countries and announced that, starting Sunday, "all Soviet citizens must obtain Chinese visas in entering, leaving or passing through Chinese territory."

The Chinese Foreign Ministry

said in a New China News Agency broadcast monitored in Tokyo the end of visa agreement was "another serious step" by the Soviet Union to "worsen still further the relations between the two countries."

The report on the airport seizure by the newspaper Mainichi's Peking correspondent said the order had been issued by the State Council and the Military Commission of the Communist party's Central Committee Jan. 26. The order said it had been issued "to prepare for war, to protect normal flights of both international and domestic aircraft, and to carry on smoothly the great cultural revolution." The report did not indicate what might be meant by the phrase "to prepare for war."

Mainichi speculated the order had been made public at least partly because of troubles early this week at Peking Airport when Chinese demonstrators harassed Soviet citizens returning to Moscow. One Soviet airliner evacuating the families of Soviet Embassy staff members was delayed for six hours by anti-Soviet demonstrations.

Mainichi said the Chinese government and military authorities appeared to be trying to avoid such "unnecessary friction." The Chinese action on visas was taken, the official news agency said, because the Soviet Foreign Ministry had informed the Chinese Embassy in Moscow that starting Sunday all Chinese citizens destined for the Soviet Union or traveling across the Soviet Union must carry visas.

The agency said China had agreed to abolish visas on the basis of several requests made by the Soviet Union starting in 1956. It said China was instituting visa requirements for Russians in response to Moscow's "unjustifiable decision" to "unilaterally scrap the agreements."

In China's "great cultural revolution" Peking wall posters said "white terror" was spreading through Inner Mongolia, where it said soldiers had beaten up large numbers of Mao Tse-tung's followers.

State Lets Bid On Kinzua Dam Area Roadway

Eight miles of new highway to ease traffic flow to Kinzua Dam will be built in McKean County.

The State Highways Department opened Friday an unofficial low bid of $1,579,713 for the job, submitted by A. E. O'Block of Pittsburgh.

The new eight-mile stretch will be on legislative route 42003 in Hamilton and Corydon townships, between Kane and Marshburg.

Irwin Manufacturing Hammerboard Plant Hit by $175,000 Fire

An early morning fire at the Irwin Manufacturing Company in Garland destroyed the hammerboard department. A plant representative last night estimated damage at $175,000.

Very soon after the first alarm was received at 5:15 a. m. yesterday, both Garland and Youngsville volunteer fire departments arrived on the scene. Each brought three pieces of equipment. A total of about 50 volunteer firemen responded.

According to Garland Fire Chief Harold Williams, although the firemen reached the plant in minutes, the blaze had such a headstart that little could be done except protect surrounding buildings. Within 15 to 20 minutes from the time the flames inside hit the roof of the building, it collapsed and fell inside. The fire was so hot steel beams eight inches across and wood working machinery were a mass of twisted metal. No one was working in the building at the time of the fire.

The main plant was not affected. Production is continuing without interruption.

Chief Williams observed that, with the extreme cold, flames and heat went straight up, and fortunately did not carry the fire to other buildings in the large manufacturing complex. The 50 by 150-foot building that burned was a well-constructed cement block and steel structure.

The plant was devoted to manufacture of maple blocks for the drop-forge industry. Drop forge dies are set on specially made solid blocks. The building contained a large amount of wood-working machinery and equipment, and stocks of maple used in manufacturing this specialty.

The entire area for about a square mile is reported to have been blanketed by a heavy cloud of black smoke, which clung to the ground. Motorists report it was next to impossible to drive

Kosygin Backs Chinese Rebels

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON
LONDON (AP) — Premier Alexei N. Kosygin came out last night in support of those Red Chinese "struggling against the dictatorial regime of Mao Tse-tung."

Kosygin's blast at the ruler of his giant Communist neighbor was unprecedented for a Soviet statesman visiting a foreign capitalist state.

The Soviet leader said an end of American military action against North Vietnam could lead to "the ending of the Vietnam conflict" and would be "the most correct solution."

Earlier Kosygin had completed the formal phase of his world-ranging talks with Prime Minister Harold Wilson, reaching one slender agreement on Vietnam; the war should be ended through political, not military action. But the two men remained totally divided on how to get peace negotiations started.

In a television interview broadcast by Britain's main networks the crewcut Russian, speaking through an interpreter, disclosed he has had a full exchange with Wilson on the China upheaval.

This, in itself, was a rare admission because heretofore, with the British at least, Soviet leaders have refused steadfastly to discuss the feud with China.

Kosygin called it "a state of aggravation." He said "it is entirely the fault of the Chinese state."

"We should like to have good relations with the Chinese government and with the Chinese Communist party which we hold in high regard," Kosygin said.

"We are aware there are today in China, in the Communist party of China, and in the Chinese government, people who are struggling against the dictatorial regime of Mao Tse-tung."

Red Truce Violations Sign Peace Settlement Far Away

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department said yesterday the rapid resupplying of Communist forces during the Vietnam cease-fire indicates the Reds are not really interested in a peaceful settlement of the war.

The statement by press officer Robert J. McCloskey, combined with Saigon reports of a heavy Communist supply buildup during the four-day Lunar New Year truce, raised the assumption here that allied forces will resume shooting soon after their proclaimed cease-fire ends at 6 p.m. EST today.

"We are of course seriously concerned about the resupply activity which is certainly indicative of the intention of the North Vietnamese to take advantage of the holiday period," the State Department spokesman said.

Hanoi has been saying there "could" be peace talks if Washington halts its air attacks on the North. U.S. strategists suggest this is primarily a propaganda campaign to end the bombing, without giving up anything in return.

McCloskey declined to say whether the Communist resupply operations violate the cease-fire "in the technical sense," nor would he talk about any allied reinforcement activities. He did not slam the door solidly on the possibility of some extension of the cease-fire beyond the allies' four-day limit. The Viet Cong have called for a seven-day cease-fire.

However, he said he knows of no contact between the Saigon and Hanoi governments about prolonging the truce.

Meanwhile, Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg said the United States still is looking for peace negotiations in good faith and is taking a flexible position on how to get discussions underway. Hanoi has rebuffed U.S. approaches so far.

In a Howard University speech, Goldberg said Hanoi has not made clear whether it will come to the conference table without preconditions, or will enter negotiations only with an advance assurance that the conference outcome "will be on their terms"—which are unacceptable to Washington.

LBj Changing Public Image

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jolted by sagging popularity and political reverses, President Johnson is working hard at changing his public image.

If he succeeds, the emergence of a new LBJ may become the most significant political development of 1967.

Conceivably, the outcome of next year's presidential election may turn on the success or failure of Johnson's efforts.

There can be no doubt now that the new year has produced a new-model LBJ. Johnson's closest White House associates speak of the transformation with enthusiasm.

It is true, they say, that in both public statements and personal appearances Johnson has changed pace and altered his style.

The President now presents himself in low key: restrained, cautious, tolerant of the other fellow's opinion — even if it differs from his own — and, in the case of Congress, scrupulously mindful of the prerogatives of the independent legislative branch.

Whether his private words and deeds will mirror this image remains to be seen. Aides predict they will. Further, they say the latest adjustment of Johnson's behavior patterns will be enduring — and it is their confident forecast that the result will be a resurgence of presidential popularity.

Johnson's associates insist that the new LBJ was not created ed by any Madison Avenue magician but by the President himself; that it reflects his own decisions spurred by adversity and moulded by the very process of growing accustomed to occupying the highest office in the land.

However the altered style came about, Johnson no longer plays the part of the itinerant medicine man, making bombastic claims for "Great Society" elixirs.

In Vietnam, he no longer professes to see a trace of light at the end of the tunnel, "to face more cost, more loss and more agony," he told Congress and the nation a month ago.

In addition, Johnson's often-frenzied pace has been subdued. He has made no full-length speeches outside Washington since mid-October, except for appearances required during his autumn trip to Asia and the Pacific.

Perhaps most significant of all, Johnson this year has made only one public reference to the Great Society. The President, of course, is mindful that the phrase "New Deal" became an epithet to a significant minority who voted against his original political idol, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Four developments converged last fall to disturb Johnson's equanimity: the electoral returns, the marked slump in his popularity as measured by the pollsters, the rebellion of Democratic governors who voiced open criticism of his leadership, and increasing talk that he suffered from a credibility gap.

Jamestown GI Dies In Vietnam

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. — Timothy A. Olson, 22, a Specialist Fourth Class with the Army's 196th Light Infantry Brigade, was killed in a skirmish near the Cambodian border Tuesday.

Olson, a native of Jamestown, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Olson of 155 Hotchkiss St.

After graduating from Jamestown High School in 1962, he attended Alfred Agricultural and Technical Institute for two years.

Prior to entering the service in August, 1965, he was employed in Jamestown by Dahlstrom Manufacturing Co. He was sent to Vietnam in August 1966.

He was reportedly killed when Viet Cong attacked his base camp at Pay Ninh, South Vietnam.

Besides his parents, the Jamestown soldier is survived by a brother Todd and a sister Terrellyn; Mrs. Nels Forsgren, his maternal grandmother; and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Olson, an uncle and aunt, all of Jamestown.

Jamestown TV Station Names Head

Reality of the proposed Jamestown, N.Y., television station moved a giant step forward as owners of a city radio station named Falconer Jones Jr., operations manager.

The TV station builders, namely Trend Radio Incorporated, owners and operators of the WJKN AM and FM radio station in Jamestown and Lowell W. Paxton, president and general manager, were responsible for the appointment of Jones.

Jones' duties will consist of having the responsibility of building the studios in the early stages and later on to work in advertising and public relations once the station goes on the air.

A lifetime resident of the Jamestown area, he resides at Bemus Point, N.Y., and joined the radio station last fall.

Since then he has been visiting TV facilities in other communities and designing the TV station's new studios.

Last week the Federal Communications Commission granted Trend Radio, Inc. the TV station for Jamestown. The station will be a full color operation and will operate on Channel 26.

Jones attended Jamestown public schools and attended the University of Buffalo and is a graduate of the business school of Jamestown Community College.

Panel Discussion Leads to Deputy

A panel discussion Thursday night was followed by action yesterday by Sheriff D. E. Allen Jr. and the Warren County Commissioners.

Allen, with District Attorney Samuel F. Bonavita, Commissioner D. H. Lay, Peace Officer Fred Berry and Attorney William Hill Jr., told members of the Retail Division of the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce about the problems and system of delinquent account collection.

While the responsibility is not a legal obligation of the sheriff's office, it was felt necessary. All fees collected will be turned over to the county treasury and the operations of the new office will not be permitted to exceed the income. A contract will be made between the sheriff and commissioners.

In other business of the retail committee Wednesday, new members were introduced as follows: Frank Chiodo, N. Kleckner, R. Wilhelm, C. Lias and E. Ord. Future promotions were also discussed.

Gov. Shafer Attends Seminar On Ohio Bond Financing Plan

By REED SMITH
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes told officials from a dozen states yesterday how Ohio expects bond financing to help solve such pressing city problems as urban renewal, slum clearance and unemployment.

He addressed an industrial development seminar for more than a score of state representatives, including four governors, studying Ohio's push to create more jobs and hold government spending within revenues.

The one-man sessions took on a political tinge at a satellite news conference in Rhodes' statehouse office with two visiting governors agreeing that their host merited consideration as a Republican dark horse presidential prospect.

Rhodes again disclaimed interest in national office at present and Govs. Raymond Shafer of Pennsylvania and Spiro Agnew of Maryland agreed that presently it is "a little too early to choose up sides."

Other governors attending the seminar were David Cargo of New Mexico and Dewey Bartlett of Oklahoma. Other states represented were Arizona, Florida, Idaho, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, Oregon and West Virginia.

Shafer and Agnew agreed with Rhodes at the news conference that bond financing "is the coming thing" in various states. "We will be expanding early this year into revenue bond financing," Shafer said.

Chinese Seige Russian Embassy Despite Protest

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW
MOSCOW (AP) — The Red Guard siege of the Soviet Embassy in Peking raged on yesterday, the day after the Soviet government demanded its end, Tass reported.

Soviet authorities halted demonstrations outside the Chinese Embassy in Moscow while waiting for China's reaction.

But the Soviet news agency On Television

Rep. Albert W. Johnson will appear on "Let's Look at Congress" television program over Buffalo station WBEN-TV at 12:15 p.m. Sunday. The interview with a newspaper reporter in Washington will cover, among other things, the cutback in federal funds for highway construction in Pennsylvania and the recent meeting of the Pennsylvania delegation with Governor Shafer in which they discussed ways and means to have the cutback order rescinded.

Rob Meadville Club

MEADVILLE — Entering via an adjacent rooftop, a burglar or burglars entered the Italian Civic Club, 869 Water st., early Thursday morning and escaped with about $250 in cash.

reported Red Guards tossed big firecrackers into the Soviet Embassy compound in Peking and said loudspeakers continued blaring "anti-Soviet drive."

A Soviet note Thursday threatened "necessary reply measures" if the Red Guards were not called off "in the shortest space of time."

Diplomats speculated on the next Soviet move, but there was no official indication.

Possibilities for "reply measures" ranged from a minimum of restricting Chinese diplomats here to their embassy to a maximum of breaking the already moribund Soviet-Chinese alliance and severing diplomatic relations. Few diplomats expected the maximum action under present circumstances.

The note was the third strong Soviet demand within a week that Chinese authorities call off Red Guards who have been laying siege to the Soviet Embassy in Peking since Jan. 26.

The note was the angriest of the three. The reason was a Chinese order Monday that the Soviet staff should not leave the embassy in Peking. If they did, the Chinese said, their safety was not guaranteed by Chinese authorities.

Local Representatives Attend State Anti-Poverty Conclave

Anti-poverty programs were the subject of a two-day conference held Feb. 1 and 2 in Harrisburg.

Representing Warren County at the conference were Richard Brown, head of the local anti-poverty program office, and Norman O. Matthews, of Warren County Central Labor Council.

The conference was held under the joint sponsorship of the Bureau of Economic Development, the Pennsylvania Department of Community Affairs and the Middle Atlantic Regional Office of Economic Opportunity. Some 200 people attended from Pennsylvania.

Speaking on anti-poverty programs were U.S. Senator Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.) and John K. Tabor, newly elected Republican Secretary of the Pennsylvania Department of Internal Affairs.

Senator Clark, who is chairman of the Senate subcommittee on employment, manpower and poverty, said he will introduce legislation to restore anti-poverty funds that have been cut from the federal budget.

He said that his committee will conduct hearings to determine the strong and weak points of the present program.

Senator Clark said there would be field hearings, some in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, some in the less urban areas of the state.

Secretary Tabor called for more funds for the manpower training portion of the program. He said the present 13 per cent now being applied in Pennsylvania is not enough to do a proper job.

He also said there was a need "to bring the decision making mechanism of the program back into closer relationship with the state government."

Secretary Tabor said that the "remoteness" of Washington has had a detrimental effect. He suggested that the anti-poverty program might be more like the Appalachia program where states decide upon implementation.

Addressing the gathering, Feb. 2 was Joseph W. Barr, Jr., secretary of the newly created Pennsylvania Department of Community Affairs, parent organization of the Bureau of Economic Development.

The Department of Community Affairs will have two program-oriented bureaus according to Barr: the Bureau of Economic Development and the Bureau of Community Development. These will be backed up by the Bureau of Research and Information. At the center of the department will be the Bureau of Community Services which will channel all aid to local communities through regional offices throughout the state.

'... and for the People'

Tomorrow is the 158th anniversary of the birth of one of America's greatest presidents. Born on February 12, 1809 in a log cabin in backwoods Hardin County, Kentucky, Abraham Lincoln probably better symbolizes the opportunity offered by this republic than any other leader in American history.

Born in virtual poverty, enjoying little formal education and suffering numerous early adversities, Lincoln fought a courageous battle, furthering his education as best he could, to ultimately gain the nation's greatest honor—the Presidency.

And here again, he weathered crisis after crisis, culminating in the Civil War, which he led to final triumph in preserving the Union, bitter as was the strife between the North and South, a bitterness which continued long after his tragic death.

The unschooled Lincoln left a treasury of legacies, however, in his philosophic and logical messages and orations, which were to be written into history as classics. And not only were they crammed with good common sense but phrased in a beauty of speech which make them among the most inspirational of any of our early presidents.

The York Garbage Dilemma

They've carried away a two-months collection of garbage from the streets of York, Pa. But a dilemma remains and neither the Commonwealth's attorney general nor the State Legislature is about to become involved. The dilemma revolves around a state law, passed in 1947, forbidding strikes by public employees. When they do strike, their governing body is prohibited from re-hiring them at pay rates higher than they earned before the strike; or to give them a pay raise for three years after returning to the job.

That's what prolonged the York strike. In an effort to bring garbage collectors back to work, York's City Council agreed to a pay increase. But Mayor John Snyder insisted on sticking by the law until his town reeked. One night, councilmen dragged him out of bed at 4 a.m., and he still refused to sign a unanimous ordinance. So, the council president signed the bill and council, in effect, put the collectors back to work on its own.

Obviously, anyone tinkering with York's garbage at this point is asking for big political trouble—not from any organized minority, from housewives. But what the labor lobby here will ask the Legislature to do is rescind a law which not only makes it unlawful to strike a municipality, but legally impossible to settle such a strike. This the municipal lobby will resist, relying on the present law to serve as a deterrent, at least.

Yet a pattern has been set. In itself, the York decision will not be overturned. Ultimately, under comparable circumstances, a test case rolling right up to the Supreme Court will be

A few of his outstanding thoughts are appropriate on this approach to the anniversary of his birth:

"A house divided against itself cannot stand."

"I go for all sharing the privileges of the government who assist in bearing its burdens."

"If destruction be our lot we must ourselves be its author and finisher. As a nation of freemen we must live through all time, or die by suicide."

"As I would not be a slave, so I would not be a master. This expresses my idea of democracy. Whatever differs from this, to the extent of the difference, is non-democracy."

"Why should there not be a patient confidence in the ultimate justice of the people. Is there any better or equal hope in the world?"

"That this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people and for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

"Truth is generally the best vindication against slander."

"It has long been a grave question whether any government, not too strong for the liberties of its people, can be strong enough to maintain its existence in great emergencies."

King Pays A Visit

WASHINGTON — A young king with a unique opportunity is visiting in Washington this week. He is King Hassan II, reigning monarch of Morocco, and his opportunity is to bring peace and better understanding to the North African Arab world.

King Hassan is an old friend of the United States. He has cruised on the airplane carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt. He has watched the Harlem Globetrotters play basketball. I last saw him in Casablanca, on a trip to entertain American troops at which time I interviewed his late father, one of the most revered monarchs in Africa.

It was his father, then Sultan Mohammed, who met with President Roosevelt during the famous Casablanca conference between Roosevelt and Churchill in 1943. The sultan was then a powerless puppet of the French, but Roosevelt invited him to lunch, encouraged the general idea of self-government, and arranged to have 100 young Moroccans study in the United States at the end of the war to train them to run their own country.

That really began the independence of Morocco. It also began the beneficent rule of King Mohammed V, who became a great influence for peace.

Unfortunately, since his death, near-war has developed between Morocco and its neighbor, Algeria, with Moroccan troops at one time invading Algerian soil. At stake is not only national prestige but the vast iron and other mineral deposits in the southern Sahara where the boundary between the countries is not well defined.

Accompanying King Hassan on his trip is Allal El Fassi Bey, sometimes called the Barry Goldwater of Morocco, leader of the Independence party, who wants Morocco to annex vast inland areas ranging from Niger to Libya to Mauritania. Arab wisecracks in the market place have it that he will not claim South Africa, Cyprus or the Virgin Islands.

The fact that this extreme nationalist is coming to the United States has aroused African uneasiness about King Hassan's trip. Unfortunately also, the Pentagon has been building up Moroccan arms and jet fighter strength. This in turn has led to the import of more Russian MIGs into Algeria.

Algeria, meanwhile, has kicked out its extreme leftist, Ben Bella, and has settled down to a moderate course with close and friendly ties with France. Its leaders have tried to help bring about contacts between the Vietnam National Liberation Front and the United States.

Unquestionably President Johnson, who knows the great job FDR did in launching Morocco, will talk to King Hassan about stabilizing its relations with Algeria. Johnson is working with the Russians on curtailing rival arms shipments to Africa and has proposed a joint U.S.-USSR administration of foreign aid.

This gives King Hassan a great opportunity to follow in the footsteps of his father.

For the first time in Congressional history there is more than one Greek-American in the House of Representatives. For a long time the Irish and German-Americans dominated Congress. They still do. However, in recent years Italian and Polish-American Congressmen have increased in number, with 17 Italians and 11 Poles in the 90th Congress.

In addition, there are two Japanese-Americans in the House, one in the Senate, one Chinese-American in the Senate; plus three Spanish-Americans in the house, one in the Senate.

This year, however, the House rates three Greek-Americans—John Brademas of South Bend, Ind., an oldtimer, and two freshmen, Peter Kyros of Portland, Me., and Nick Galifianakis of Durham, N.C. All three are Democrats.

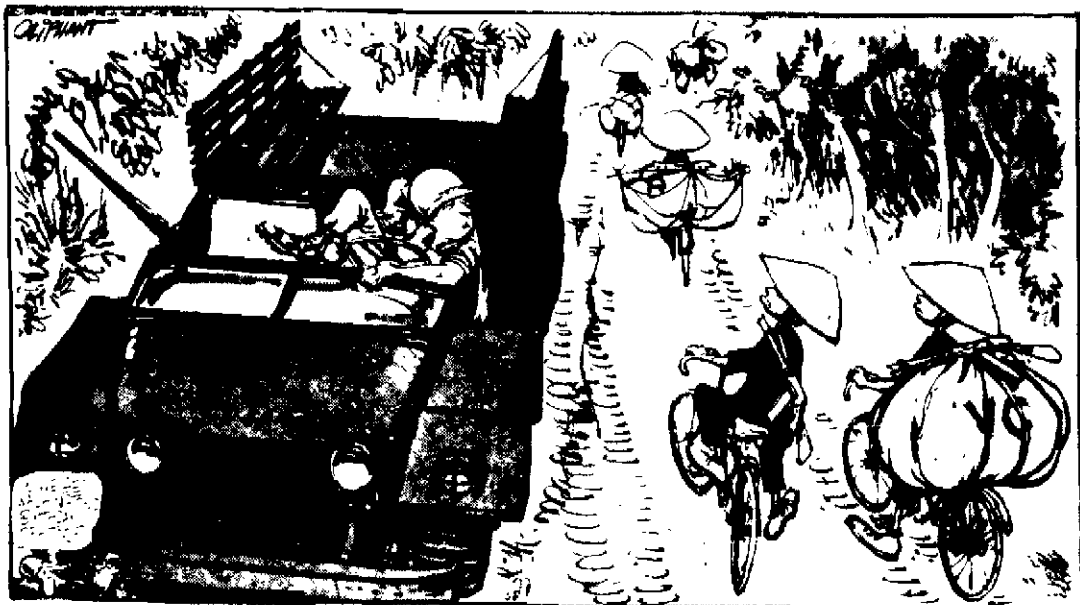

Democracy, of course, originated in Athens. Not unaware of this, Congressman Galifianakis was going through the Capitol with a group of freshmen Congressmen. Galifianakis has both a sense of pride and a sense of humor.

"Those beautiful columns of the Supreme Court building," he said, "are Doric. The columns on the Capitol are Corinthian—both, of course, Greek. And the man who painted the beautiful frescoes on the dome of the Capitol was actually a Greek, Constantino Brumidi. The Italians claim him as Brumidi, but his real name was probably Greek—Brumidius."

"The next thing you're going to tell me," said Rep. Sonny Montgomery, D-Miss., "is that LBJ's a Greek."

Farmer and the Lumberman

No one objects to the way a farmer harvests his crops of wheat, but it is not unusual for a timberland owner to be severely criticized for the way he cuts his timber.

The wheat farmer, with his combine, can level a field of ripe grain in a matter of hours. For a logging crew to clear out a patch of timber of the same acreage may take weeks. Wheat being an annual crop will reclothe the field again after the spring sowing. But it may take up to ten years for a young crop of trees to erase the scars of logging on a clear-cut.

All through the nineteenth and early in the twentieth century, an aura of sanctity surrounded the tiller of the soil. Farmers were considered the backbone of the nation, for until recently we were largely a rural people. During the same period, the lumberman was accused of being greedy, rapacious, predatory, and destructive.

Americans could forgive the farmers among them who wasted the soil and moved on to repeat their folly. But they were reluctant to forgive the lumbermen who left a sea of stumps behind them.

And so, the lumberman long ago developed an unenviable public image. Today, he is operating in a spotlight that becomes increasingly brighter as more and more people become concerned about natural beauty, the quality of the environment, and esthetic

The national forests have become the playground for a large share of the people seeking outdoor recreation.

Important as wilderness areas, non-cut areas, and scenic strips may be, there must be a balance between what can be dedicated to timber production and what can be left for other uses.

I do not claim to have the gift of prophecy, but I think that I saw in southern Germany the sort of compromise that Americans may have to accept in natural resource conservation some time in the future.

It was a compromise between the dirt farmer and the timber grower. The stretch of country through which I rode on the autobahn was all potentially productive farmland, but alternate blocks of it were devoted to timber growing and the trees came right down to the edge of the highway. One drove through alternate blocks of fine timber and intensively cultivated farmland. Roadside picnic areas, with marble topped tables, were fitted into the timber blocks at regular intervals, but they did not interfere with the growing of commercial crops of timber. Stumps are not considered unsightly by the recreationist in Europe.

Esthetics were preserved in these wonderful man-made forests by prohibiting bill boards along the auto-bahn. That there were deer in these forests was evident by the "deer crossing" signs with pictures of buck deer on the run.

Rumors Of Peace

We have reached a point in Vietnam where there are faint but distinct signals that those chiefly concerned in the fighting have begun to think about negotiating. The signals could not be taken seriously were it not that so many of them contain the same essential element: that they contemplate a peace without victory for

The President, speaking for this country in his press conference last week, made it quite clear that our terms for negotiation were not an unconditional surrender. The signals both from Hanoi and from the Viet Cong, which are not exactly equivalent, suggest conditions for negotiation which are a long way short of a demand for the unconditional withdrawal of the U.S. forces from Vietnam.

At this stage both sides are deeply aware that they are running risks. The risk for the United States is that during a cease-fire in both parts of Vietnam the adversary could use the respite to regroup and reinforce. This risk, however, is in some measure offset by the fact that during the respite our forces, too, would be reinforced and could strengthen the positions they hold.

For Hanoi and for the Viet Cong the risk of a cease-fire is considerable. The Vietnamese longing for peace is so great that once our bombing of North Vietnam and our offensives in the South were suspended it would not be easy for them to revive the will to fight. We run no such corresponding risk. Our forces are largely professional.

For these reasons both sides have to carry on the preliminaries to a negotiation with wariness.

It is sometimes said that the preliminaries ought to be conducted in complete secrecy because the public disclosure of the terms under discussion would be likely to incite all the backseat drivers on both sides. The fact is, however, that in these preliminary stages of bringing a war to an end absolute secrecy is virtually impossible.

In the other three large wars of our century there has always been a preliminary period like the present one in Vietnam. In all of them there has been some kind of public manifestation of the will to negotiate, for only with that are the channels of diplomacy likely to be opened effectively.

If, as was the case in the closing phases of the war with Japan in 1945, the more powerful belligerent is committed to a demand for unconditional surrender, the signals will be disregarded.

As I read what he said last week, President Johnson has taken an unequivocal stand against a policy of unconditional surrender and is in favor of honorable negotiation.

The outlook, therefore, is not unfavorable. It may indeed be more favorable than we are allowing ourselves to think. For once an adversary begins to send up signals it is not easy for him to reverse himself and resume absolute warfare. The only way he could do this readily would be if we chose to treat his signals as a sign of weakness and then hit him all the harder.

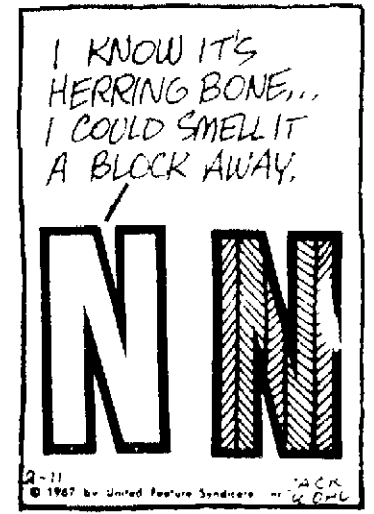

There are two very strong reasons for taking the signals seriously.

The first is that the convulsion in China has become so enormous and so violent that the influence of Peking on the Vietnamese war must be declining precipitously. The influence of Moscow and of the block of Soviet states must be very much greater in Hanoi than it was a few months ago. The Soviet interest is to end the Vietnamese war without loss of face and to remove the largest obstacle to a collaboration with Western Europe and the United States.

Another reason for taking the signals seriously is that neither side has much to gain from carrying on the war. Hanoi cannot drive the Americans into the sea. The Americans cannot exterminate the Viet Cong.

Sheffield, Youngsville And Ike Win on Courts

For possibly the first time this year, three county teams posted wins on the same night. Youngsville won over West Forest 73-51, Eisenhower blasted Tidoute 80-67 and Sheffield held off Bradford Central Christian 61-46.

Only loser was Tidoute who fell to Eisenhower.

Three Youngsville cagers hit double figures as the Eagles tripped the Indians. Ron Knapp led all scorers with 31 points. Bob Chisholm had 14 and Gary Carter scored 13 for the Red and White.

West Forest also had three men over 10 points. Randy Custer hit for 16, Bill Kaiser had 11 and Al Flick tallied 10. The first quarter was even with both teams scoring 15 points. The Eagles took the upper hand in the second period as they outscored the visitors 22-11.

Youngsville scored 36 points in the second half to 25 for the West Forest five.

The difference in the game came from the floor where the Eagles scored 29 field goals to 17 for the Indians. West Forest tallied 17 times from the free throw line to 15 for the Eagles. Eisenhower posted a league win over Tidoute by an 80-67 score on the Bulldogs floor.

The Knights used a balanced attack to off set the Bulldogs. Bob Burlingame, as usual, led the Knights. He scored 23 points. Barton Lohnes gave him a lot of support with 22 markers. Other Knights in double figures were Gary Fry with 17 and Dave Van Cise with 12 points.

Leading the Bulldog attack was Ed Ziegler with 14 points. Max Anderson scored 12 while Bob Bosko and Bill Brown each chipped in with 11.

Eisenhower outscored the Bulldogs in the first and last periods by a total of 14 points. In the middle frames the Bulldogs hit 35 points to 34 for Eisenhower.

The Eisenhower JV's posted a 46-27 win over the Tidoute reserves in the preliminary. Wayne Swanson did the job both offensively and defensively last night as the Sheffield Wolverines posted a win over Bradford Central Christian.

Swanson scored 17 points, high for the Wolverines. On defense he held the Ramblers leading scorer, John McVay, to one field goal. He had been averaging about 20 points a game.

Swanson got offensive help from Jeff Scalise with 14 points and Mike Steffan with 12 markers.

Colestro was high for the Ramblers with 16 points. The Sheffield defense limited the hosts to 13 field goals. The Wolverine offense clicked for 23 two-pointers.

Sheffield broke on top after one period by a 15-11 margin. At the half they had built the lead up to 13 points. After an even 13 quarter, the Wolverines again outscored the Ramblers to post the win.

In the Junior Varsity game the Little Wolverines won by a 70-50 score. Dave Morrison paced the attack with 22 points. In an Allegheny Mountain League game, St. Marys kept their hopes for the crown alive by whipping Ridgway 69-46.

The Flying Dutchmen broke on top by six points after the first period. Both teams scored 12 points in the second eight minutes. In the third period the Dutchmen rolled to a 15 point advantage by outscoring the hosts 22-13.

In the final period St. Marys hit 20 points to 12 for the Elks.

The big second half rally was led by Dan Wilhelm. He scored 12 of his 14 points in the second half. Bud Brennan hit for seven of his 13 in the last two periods. Other Dutchmen in double figures were Larry Kimes with 12 and Larry Hanes with 10.

Ron Zameroski had 15 and Dan Pierce 11 for the Elks.

Knight Grapplers Take Loop Lead Rout Pine Valley, 41-15 As Randolph Is Defeated

COULD GO EITHER WAY

Knight freshman Paul Cathcart has a firm grip on the leg of Pine Valley's Jim Gleason in the 120-pound bout of last night's Eisenhower wrestling match at the county school's gym. Cathcart could not capitalize and was the victim of a pin at 4:45. His teammates came through, however, to hand the visiting Panthers a 41-15 setback and move into undisputed first place in the Southern Tier Conference. (Photo by Mahan)

By DICK SINE

"When the pressure was on us, we came through," said a jubilant Don Johns after his Eisenhower High wrestlers last night bombed visiting Pine Valley, 41-15, and moved into sole possession of first place in the Southern Tier Wrestling Conference.

While the Knights were soundly drubbing Pine Valley, southwestern handed league-leading Randolph a 29-16 setback. Randolph now moves a half game behind Eisenhower.

The Knights have defeated both Southwestern and Randolph and now stand 8-1 in league play and 8-2 total. Randolph is now 3-2 in the league and has finished its league schedule.

The Knights must now defeat visiting Silver Creek Wednesday night to clinch the title—first in the three years of wrestling at the Lander school. Johns, greatly pleased at the way his team looked, added that "we've proved that we're a wrestling team."

The Knights went into the match with a definite advantage. Pine Valley forfeited three bouts—although they were at strong Eisenhower weights.

Pete Block, at 95, opened the night with a pin in :55 over Caldwell. Block got a takedown at 19 seconds and then converted a strong head-in-arm ride into the fall. Owen Williams, at 103, was the recipient of the first victory-by-forfeit.

Gary Gage, at 112, pinned Carl Swanson in 2:50. Gage got a takedown in the opening frame. He was in the bottom position in the second period and reversed at 1:33. A short 23 seconds later Swanson had the opportunity to count the lights on the Eisenhower gym ceiling.

Paul Cathcart, at 120, ran up against a tough Jim Gleason and was pinned in 4:45. Gleason had previously scored on two takedowns, a reversal and a near fall. Cathcart had tallied a reversal.

Gary Dalrymple, at 127, scored a decisive 7-1 victory over Ron Lucas. Dalrymple hooked a single leg and tripped Lucas for an opening takedown. He added an escape and another takedown in the second period. In the final frame, Dalrymple maneuvered Lucas into a near fall, before the latter escaped at 1:16.

Paul Lindemuth, at 133, received the second victory-by-forfeit.

Dan Larson, at 138, pinned Mary Morey 4:31 with a reverse half nelson and inside crotch. Larson scored a takedown at :56 of the first period on a single leg dive and trip. He reversed in only seven seconds to open the second period to end the bout scoring.

Dave Burnett, at 145, was victim to a head-and-arm takedown at the hands of Ron Felton. Felton kept driving and converted the move, by way of an arm tieup, into a fall at 1:12.

Jim Martin, at 154, capitalized on mistakes by Pat Richmond and decided the Panther, 3-1. Martin escaped at 1:39 of the second period.

Richmond escaped at 1:22 of the final frame. With the wrestlers neutral, Richmond tried a head and arm takedown which backfired, giving Martin the takedown and the winning margin.

Harry Critzer, at 165, caught Brian Delahoy off balance and registered a fall at 3:15. The bout opened with Critzer floating to a takedown at 1:50. Delahoy reversed and Critzer countered for another reversal as the period ended, 4-2. The second stanza opened with Critzer on top and being reversed at 1:24. At 2:58, the Knight junior reversed and found Delahoy suddenly squirming to stay off his back. Critzer applied a body press and won.

Tim Martin, at 180, had the unfortunate experience of meeting the fabled Tom Butcher. This Panther, equally dangerous at either 180 or heavy-weight, chased Martin around the mat, before finally catching him and pinning him at 1:08.

Rod Funseth Opens Lead At Phoenix

By STEVE BASSETT
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Rod Funseth, who seems to have adopted the Arizona Country Club as his playground, shot a seven-under-par 64 yesterday and took a four-stroke lead after two rounds of the $70,000 Phoenix Open Golf Tournament.

Funseth, a 33-year-old tour regular from Spokane, Wash., who won here in 1965, had seven birdies to go with five during Thursday's opening round for a 10-under-par 68-64—132.

In second place at 136, after shooting 67s, four under par, were Bob Bolt, a tour rookie playing in only his fourth tournament, and veterans Julius Boros and Billy Maxwell. Jackie Rule Jr. also came in with a 136 after a second-round 70.

Rule, one of the first-round leaders with a 69, shot a 35-35—70 yesterday. Ken Sill and Dean Reffram, tied with Rule after 18-holes, jumped to 110 and 138, after shooting 74 and 72 respectively.

Bunched in third place with 137 were George Knudson, Johnny Pott and Dave Stockton, while Billy Casper led a group of six golfers with 138.

Rockets Trip Dragon Matmen, Cagers Webermen Lose Thriller In Final Match, 24-19

By LARRY G. STEELE
Sports Editor

Titusville turned the tables on the Warren wrestling team last night, upsetting the Dragons, 24-19.

The local grapplers started strong, taking the first four weights, then the visitors took four to knot the match score at 14-14. The Dragons and Rockets split the next two weights and the 180-pound bout ended in a draw.

Denny Muir gave Titusville the victory with a second period fall in the heavyweight bout. Frank Cataldo, winner of the trophy as Warren's outstanding wrestler for the season in pre-match ceremonies, chased Titusville's Tom Goodwill for three periods to romp to a 15-2 triumph in the first varsity bout of the evening.

Goodwill's stalling tactics finally cost him four points in the third period when Cataldo had a 9-2 lead, but the Titusville grappler had obeyed instructions to stay off his back and Warren had to be content with an early 3-0 lead.

At 103, Dana Sorensen had better luck holding Paul Bennett of the Rockets on the mat, and nearly pinned him in the second period, holding a 10-0 advantage midway through the third stanza. Sorensen finally put his opponent away for the count and boosted the Dragon margin to 8-0.

In one of his finest matches of the year, Warren's Brad Waxman earned a 3-2 decision over Mike Brady at 112. Following a no-takedown first period, Brady tallied an escape point in the middle two minutes for a 1-0 lead.

Waxman gained the point back with a smooth move after two seconds of the last period, then took Brady to the mat with 20 seconds to go in the match. The Dragon matman let his opponent up with three seconds remaining, but notched the triumph and the Dragons held an 11-0 advantage.

Doug Sorensen mauled John Beatty at 120 after the Rocket wrestler surprised him with a first period takedown. Sorensen quickly gained the points back and was ahead 3-2 going into the second stanza.

Sorensen scored a near-fall while riding out the second period, then caught Beatty in the punishing "grapevine" in the last stanza for another three-point and over four minutes of riding time gave him a 13-2 decision.

With the Dragons ahead, 14-0, Titusville came on strong in the middle weights.

Jim Mead was trailing John Bennett, 6-2 in the third period when Bennett pinned him and the Rockets broke into the scoring column.

Steve Kaiser had a close match with veteran Shaun Young at 133, but the Rocket grappler led 4-3 at the final buzzer and added a pair of riding time points.

At 138, Bill Shaffer had what seemed like a comfortable 4-0 lead after two periods, but Titusville's Dick Hasbrouck escaped in the third period, took Shaffer to the mat and scored two predicament points to win, 7-4 and the Dragons' margin was cut to three points, 14-11.

The Rockets tied the match score at 14-14 when Steve Bangs took a 5-2 decision from Mike Maines. Bangs led only 3-2 going into the final two minutes, but tallied predicament points to clinch the triumph.

Corky Greenwood gave the Blue and White some measure of hope at 154 with a 9-1 whitewash of Howard Morrison. Greenwood scored in every period and totaled nearly four minutes on top for the victory and the Dragons surged back in front, 17-14.

Adrian Holland's 11-3 victory over Bob Thompson of Warren tied the match score again at 17-17.

In the 180-pound bout, Warren's Darrell Pusateri had to settle for a heartbreaking 1-1 draw with Barney McCracken.

Neither grappler scored in the first period, then Pusateri escaped with 54 seconds left in the middle stanza for a 1-0 lead. The third period was stopped twice when McCracken complained on an injured shoulder, but Pusateri had full control until the last three seconds.

Then, the Dragon grappler, thinking he heard the final buzzer above the roar of the crowd and his excited teammates, released McCracken and referee Ed Sinnott awarded him an escape point. Pusateri realized his error too late as the buzzer did sound. He had compiled 57 seconds of riding time, missing the triumph by three seconds.

With the score tied again, 19-19, the result of the match rested on the outcome of the heavyweight bout.

Muir of the Rockets held a 3-2 advantage over Warren's Lee Bryan after one period, then rolled the Dragon grappler at the start of the middle stanza and recorded the winning fall with a body press.

Warren's junior varsity kept the night from being a complete disaster with a 36-10 rout of the Rocket jayvees. Registering falls for the little Dragons were Randy Lord (95), Jim Mock (154) and Jeff Fino (180). Reed Vought (112), Jeff Hunter (120), Rod Littlefield (127), Joe Kellogg (138), and Craig White took decisions for the locals. John Parks (133) and Jim Phillips (heavyweight) were tied to draws.

AWARD WINNER

Saints Get Hornung From Veteran Draft

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Hornung, the former Golden Boy of the Green Bay Packers, became a New Orleans Saint yesterday when the newest National Football League team picked 42 players from the stockpile of available veterans.

Gary Wood, the New York Giants' No. 1 quarterback after Earl Morrall was injured, and Bill Kilmer, the No. 3 passer at San Francisco, were among the veterans picked by Coach Tom Fears for his Saints.

Baltimore gave up three linebackers in Steve Stonebreaker, Jackie Burkett and Ted Davis. All had been injured at various stages of the 1966 season and Stonebreaker since has had knee surgery.

Several of the players selected were regulars during the 1966 season. In addition to Hornung and Stonebreaker, other starters from the Western Conference teams included center Bill Curry of Green Bay's world champions, flanker Tom Hall of the Minnesota Vikings, offensive tackle Riley Mattson of the Chicago Bears and Elbert Kimbrough of the San Fran-

Not Bulldogs' Week

This wasn't the week for undefeated Bulldog wrestling teams.

After the Dragons knocked off Redbank Valley earlier in the week, Greenville stopped Meadville's victory streak at 26 Thursday night with a 27-9 rout.

And, just as three unbeaten Redbank grapplers bit the dust, so did a pair of Meadville matmen taste defeat for the first time. Dave Cocolin was "upset" according to the Meadville Tribune, by Bob Catalano, 3-0. Catalano carried a 1-0 lead into the final period, then turned Cocolin on his back for predicament points.

Ron Johnson, the Bulldog ace, was edged 6-4 by Sam Landfried. Johnson scored first on a takedown, but Landfried reversed him to knot the score at 2-2 going into the middle stanza. The Greenville grappler went ahead on an escape, but Johnson switched to take a 4-3 advantage. Down in the last period, Landfried tallied on a reversal and gained another point for riding time.

The only Meadville winners were Dan Coon at 103, 120-pounder Dennis Shaffer and Rick Gray at 145. Ironically, two of them lost against the Dragons.

Our only comment on the triumph at New Bethlehem is that the Webermen were "loose" and wrestled extremely well.

STEELE SHAVINGS—We understand that our comments on the "pep band" at the Meadville match were considered insulting. This certainly was not our intention; we were merely relating an incident that took place prior to the varsity match when we repeated a Meadville official's request that the drummer move to avoid causing confusion at the scorers' table.

We've been advised that the drummer was not even a member of the Dragon Pep Band, as in fact—no one from the group attended the match in an official capacity.

The Pep Band makes a valuable contribution at all home meets and games and it was not our intention to ridicule the group in any way.

IT'S NO DAY FOR BASEBALL

for an estimated $17,500 on Wednesday. The New Yorkers will open at Philadelphia on April 14. (See National and American League schedules below.)

CLEVELAND HAS PITCHING

Tribe Contender in '67, But Orioles Club to Beat

By JOE ADCOCK
Cleveland Manager

I've been saying all winter long that the Indians will be contenders in 1967, and that's the way I want the players to think. I've also said that Baltimore, World Champions last season, would have to be the team to beat.

And beating any team in the strong American League can be done with good pitching. I think the Indians have it, too.

With fellows like Sam McDowell, Sonny Siebert, Luis Tiant, Gary Bell and Steve Harman, Cleveland has the pitching strength and the depth. Other pitchers such as Tom Kelley, Bob Allen, Steve Bailey and Dick Radatz, plus veteran Jack Kralick and John O'Donoghue, make that bench even stronger.

With the pitching goes defense, and if I have to describe our club for the coming season, I'd say that's what we'll go with—pitching and defense.

The best defense, of course, is one that makes fewer mistakes. And the best way to avoid mistakes is to know fundamentals. I will stress these basic fundamentals from opening day of spring training until the end of the championship season.

I believe a major league team can lose a dozen or even more games a season because of the lack of fundamentals. Simple things like throwing to the right cutoff man, the right base at the right time, failing to cover a base, and mainly, to eliminate mental mistakes.

I will stress these things right from the beginning. I will go to spring training with an open mind. I expect to get a good and long look at all of our personnel.

I will also expect to utilize our entire coaching staff—consisting of George Strickland, Clay Bryant, Del Rice, and Pat Mullin. I think this is a fine staff of experienced and dedicated baseball men in the game.

I also realize that being a "rookie" manager has its disadvantages, but I know that being just off the field as a player for 20 seasons means that I should be closer to the players than I will ever be again. I will be aware of their problems, and of their feelings. This, I think, will be an asset.

Next year I won't have the advantage of being just off the field. That becomes a minus, but I will also gain a plus by having a full season behind me as a manager.

I've worked half my life in baseball. I don't know any other way to operate. I expect my players to do the same thing. If they give me that usual percentage that I will demand, then you'll see an improved baseball team.

I said at the beginning that the Indians will be a contender. I still believe that.

Record Night Games In National League

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The National League will have five opening dates this year and a record-breaking number of 469 night games.

The schedule, made public earlier this month, calls for the Cincinnati Reds and the champion Los Angeles Dodgers to get the season under way on April 10 at Cincinnati. The Reds always open at home in recognition of Cincinnati being the home of the first professional baseball club.

The other eight teams will play for the first time on April 11 with Pittsburgh at New York, Philadelphia at Chicago, San Francisco at St. Louis and Atlanta at Houston.

The next opening home date will be April 13 when San Francisco plays at Atlanta. Philadelphia and Pittsburgh will have their home openers on April 14 with the Phils meeting New York and the Pirates playing Chicago.

The two West Coast clubs—Los Angeles and San Francisco—finally will play before home fans for the first time on April 18. Cincinnati will be at Los Angeles and St. Louis at San Francisco.

The scheduled 469 night dates top by seven the previous record of 462 set last year.

As usual, Houston will be the top performer at night with 63 scheduled dates under the lights. Philadelphia will be right behind with 62 night dates. Los Angeles and Atlanta each will have 59 night dates and St. Louis will have 58.

Pittsburgh will have 51 night dates and Cincinnati 50. New York will be next with 44 while San Francisco will have only 23.

Chicago plays all of its home games in the daytime. The regular season will end Oct. 1 with Pittsburgh, Atlanta, Cincinnati, Los Angeles and San Francisco winding up the pennant battle at home.

Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, rated to be two top pennant contenders will have only three dates at home during the last two weeks of the season.

On the other hand, Los Angeles and San Francisco will be on their home grounds for all but four dates of that final two weeks.

Atlanta will have five dates at home in the last two weeks and Cincinnati six.

Jr. League Starts 2nd Half Today

Second half action in the YMCA Junior League will begin today at Warren Area High School with two games on tap.

First game today will pit the Hawks, 4-2 in the first half, against the Warriors. The Hawks are coached by Dan O'Neill and led by the league's leading scorer, Mark Schaeffer. The Warriors finished third in the first half. Their coach is John Zawacki.

In the second game the Knicks will meet the Pistons. The Knicks ended the first half in a tie with the Hawks for first place. They are coached by Dan Krumm and Mark Torrance is their leading scorer. Mike Hosch coaches the Pistons. Dean Spiridon is the leading scorer for the Pistons.

Games will be played at noon and 1 p.m.

Since both the Knicks and Hawks had 4-2 records in the first half there will be a play-off at the High School gym at 5:15 p.m., Friday, Feb. 17, prior to the Warren-Corry battle.

The final first half records are as follows:

Budget, Zoning Law, Pool Before Council

Warren town council appears to be slated for a full evening Monday when the body meets at 7:30 p.m. to consider a lengthy agenda.

The 1967 budget as amended will be up for approval along with reenactment of the per capita tax and the levying of real estate and occupational taxes.

The controversial new zoning ordinance is scheduled for first reading following a number of required public hearings and protests, particularly from real estate agents in the Warren area.

A resolution will be presented in regard to the Oak st. swimming pool complex since the budget in its preliminary form provided a $76,000 appropriation from council.

Other resolutions due Monday will appoint probationary patrolmen to the police department; permit fees for the Board of Health; amend the salary resolution to provide a 44-hour week in the Public Works Dept.; widen an intersection and grant the Jaycees use of War Memorial Field, Beatty Field playground and the Warren Airport for the Fourth of July celebration activities.

A motion will be presented to advertise for bids for two new trucks for the PWD and an emergency truck and chief's car for the fire department.

Ordinances listed for first reading are to change stop signs at Terrace and Brook sts. and East st. and Second ave. as well as no parking zones from the Fifth ave. bridge to Conewango ave. and from Third ave. bridge to Conewango.

Council will also hear a resolution to advertise for bids to install a storm sewer in Lexington ave. and S. Parker st.

Two Warrenites Radio Winners In Ford Contest

Sandra L. Manning, 342 River, and Carol L. Voegelé, 106 Walker ave., both of Warren, have been named winners in Ford Motor Company's "Safe Driving Incentive Program for Young Americans" and awarded a Philco transistor radio.

The winners are among 3,200 drivers in the nation who qualified for an award by driving without an accident or moving traffic violation last year from July 1 to Sept. 30. Winners also answered a quiz on driving rules and practices, and submitted brief essays on personal programs for safe driving.

In announcing award recipients, Henry Ford II, company chairman of the board, said, "It is gratifying to learn that so many young Americans share our concern for traffic safety."

The company awarded 15 Mercury Caliente hardtops, 15 Philco portable stereos, 200 Philco portable stereo phonographs and 3,000 Philco transistor radios in the competition.

Ford announced the Safe Driving Incentive Program early last summer for licensed drivers who would not have reached their 25th birthdays by Sept. 30. It was prompted by the fact that young people in the 15-to-24-year age group have a disproportionate number of motor vehicle accidents.

NEW JUNIOR HONOR SOCIETY MEMBERS

Twenty-nine new members were received into the National Junior Honor Society at impressive ceremonies at Deady Junior High School yesterday morning. The new members, pictured above, but not in order, are: Patty Barhight, Kathy Chase, Kathy Clark, Helen Ann Collins, John Critelli, Cindy Dahler, James Donick, Rocky Dove, Marjorie Goodwill, Cindy Gross, Sue Gustafson, Joann Hellman, Nancy Howard, Charles W. Johnson, Randie Johnson, Patty

Loucks, Terry Lyle, Jude Lyons (not present), Kris Marsh, Marlene McConnell, Patty McDonnell, Susan Mead, Lisa Niedzialek, Janet Reynolds, Linda Saporito, Nancy Schuler, James Sedon, John E. Swanson, Cathy Werner. Members of the society and school faculty participated in the exercises, with the oath being given by Henry Powell, principal, and cards and pins being presented by Mr. Scott and Mr. Spadafore. ## Titusville Man Fatally Hurt in Fall

TITUSVILLE — Thomas Jefferson (Jeff) Rodgers, 76, of Titusville RD 2, suffered fatal injuries Thursday when he fell from a ladder onto a brick surface while engaged in repair work on a garage at his home.

Rodgers suffered a broken neck when the ladder on which he was standing collapsed and threw him to the ground, according to Deputy Coroner Dr. C. M. Sonne.

The victim reportedly was coming down the ladder to get some additional repair material and was on the third rung of the extension-type ladder when it collapsed. He was found by his wife when she went to the garage to ascertain what detained his return to the house.

He was born at Plummer, Aug. 24, 1890, and had been associated with the oil business during his life. He was employed by the Red Valley Oil Co. for many years and later by Wolf's Head Oil Refining Co. He retired in 1963.

His wife, three daughters and one son survive.

School Board to Act On Teacher Salaries

Scheduled to come before the Warren County District School Board Monday evening February 13, at the regular meeting, is the report of the Teachers Committee, concerning proposed salary schedules beginning July 1, 1967.

At the January meeting of the board, representatives of the Warren County Teachers Association appeared to present findings of their studies and proposals for salaries. This was referred to the Teachers Committee, expected to submit a proposal for action Monday evening.

The school administration is anxious to have a new salary schedule adopted, which will be fairly competitive with surrounding districts. Last year 101 professional people were employed by the Warren County School District. With over 500 teachers in the district, Superintendent Thomas Barratt says annual turnover runs between 16 and 20 percent. If the pay schedule is not kept competitive with other districts, a bigger turnover would be expected. The Board is concerned with the proposals, and are keeping in mind the tax base and a more competent staff, hoping to balance the two.

Resolutions will be considered concerning recommendation of the member districts of the Northwest Regional Instructional Materials Center, Warren, Crawford and Erie Counties, to qualify for $80,000 from Pa. Department of Public Instruction, with matching special assessment of $20,000 from the joint districts for more rapid expansion of the services of the center.

Appointments to vacancies, and re-appointments to the Warren Borough Authority and Suburban Warren Authority will be acted upon.

Action will be recommended for approval of directors for Headstart program, for the coming summer.

Resolution concerning further study of vocational-technical needs of the District will be presented.

All persons desiring to run for nomination for school director in the May 1967 primary election will be reminded their petitions must designate whether they are seeking nomination for 4 or 6 year terms.

County Acts On Findings At Hoffman

A representative of the Office for Children and Youth, State Dept. of Public Welfare, met yesterday afternoon with the Warren County Commissioners in regard to a report on conditions at the Hoffman Children's Home.

During an inspection last week by State Sanitary Inspector Robert Brumagin, a list of complaints caused the home to be temporarily disapproved.

With the exception of some painting and corrections which will result when the proposed building program is completed, the complaints have been taken care of and Brumagin yesterday indicated he would write a letter to that effect for the state official.

William Schuman, of the Child and Youth office, said that once the Health Dept. approves the children's home as meeting minimum standards, and since he has already seen and approved the preliminary building and expansion plans, the trustees can move ahead on the program.

Once the improvement plans are final and submitted to Schuman for approval, he will forward them to Harrisburg.

Schuman stated he urged the trustees to move as quickly as possible.

There are presently 21 children at the home.

Join Forces to War On Tipsy Drivers

The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board has moved to join forces with the Traffic Safety Bureau and State Police in an all-out effort to combat drunken driving.

Fulfilling a pledge voiced by former State Senator William Z. Scott, when he was sworn in as a Board member last December, the Board met this week with Harry Brainerd, Traffic Safety Commissioner and Major George Pukerton of the State Police Bureau of Traffic, to discuss ways in which the three state agencies can pool their efforts.

Complete agreement was reached on a number of points, chiefly in the areas of remedial legislation and public information.

Buy Equipment at Rouse Home, Adopt '67 Budget

Commissioners of the Rouse Estate yesterday accepted bids totaling $41,767 for movable equipment in the Rouse Home building program.

Approval also was given the 1967 budget totaling $311,950 which includes increases in salaries for all employees amounting to $29,000 since February, 1966.

The major contract in the movable equipment purchases consummated yesterday was with Hub Surgical for patient's room furniture—beds, mattresses, safety rails, overbed tables — on a low bid of $35,346.61.

Other successful bidders were: Valone Restaurant & Equipment Supply, for kitchen accessories, $1612; Gar Hospital Equipment, for bath carts, $727; American Hospital Supply, for treatment room equipment, $349.50; Ken Strickler, office furniture, $1222; Debs Hospital Supply, for nursing service equipment, $1897.51, and Heyl Physicians' Supply, for lazy-D chairs, $102.

Income as listed in the 1967 budget includes: cash balance, Jan. 1, 1967, $35,400; Department of Public Assistance, $120,000; county appropriation, $60,000; social security, $33,000; personal payments, $50,500; interest and dividends, $7,550; land rental and miscellaneous, $5,500; a total of $311,950.

Major expenditures include:

wages and salaries, $198,000; social security, $8,000; hospital supplies and equipment, $7,000; drugs, $5,000; utilities, $11,000; groceries, $30,000; maintenance, $5,000; laundry, $11,500; physicians, $3,000; hospitalization insurance, $4,800; fire-liability-auto insurance, $3,700; miscellaneous, $3,000; unappropriated, $5,800.

THIS WAY! THAT WAY!

New overhead directional signs were erected yesterday at the Fourth and Fifth avenue intersections with Market Street to facilitate the flow of traffic over the major artery. The new signs will aid motorists in following the correct lane of traffic north and south on the street. The above photo looking northward shows the new signs at Fifth and Market. The signs were furnished by the state with the Borough paying for their erection. Similar signs will be placed at several other intersections. (Photo by Mansfield)

Accidents, Deaths Rise On Roads

Traffic accidents continue to increase in the area along with fatalities.

Captain Robert L. Dunham, commanding officer, Pennsylvania State Police, Troop E, Erie, reports that out of 270 accidents investigated in January, there were seven persons killed. For the same period last year, state police in Warren, Erie, Crawford and Venango counties, investigated 228 accidents in which four lost their lives.

According to Dunham, reckless driving and driving too fast for conditions remain top causes of accidents. Other causes listed included failure to yield the right of way, failure to give proper signals when turning, failure to obey traffic signals, following too closely and failure to yield half the highway.

One of the mishaps was caused by a pedestrian, three by deer and two caused by other animals on the highway. The Drivers' Examination detail processed a total of 1,136 persons for operator's licenses, with 831 passing tests.

Station Change

It was learned in Ridgway Thursday that the Pennsylvania Railroad has filed an application with the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission to change the status of its station at Ridgway from that of an agency carload only freight station to that of a non-agency carload only freight station. In the event this application is approved, the station will be placed under the jurisdiction of the company's station at St. Marys.

Town Crier

. . . By Les Rickey

The springlike weather is with us again and I think it's all because of politics.

You don't believe me, I know that you're sitting there with a smirk on your face, knowing full well it at five finally popped my cork.

Well, it's true—the politics part, that is. The above-freezing temperatures in February are the direct result of politics and the upcoming county elections. It's all because of hot air. There's the hot air of the candidates, which are so numerous that their platforms and activities—and talk—are bound to melt away the snow. Notice how the big East Coast blizzard missed us this week? That proves just how big this election is.

Add that to the hot air of those who are contemplating candidacy or denying it and you've got one big warm front—or several, depending upon how you look at it.

And it's bound to get better as time goes by. This will be one of the mildest winters in Warren County's history, unless they run out of things to say.

In that case, you can blame the politicians for the weather. They get blamed for everything else anyhow.

ALL WGH VOLUNTEER WORKERS have been invited to attend a Soup 'N Pie Awards Luncheon at the hospital on Tuesday, St. Valentine's Day. Reservations for the event are now being accepted by Mrs. Joette Tuttle at the hospital Reception Center, 723-3300; or, the co-chairman, Mrs. Ralph Sandberg at 723-9224. Volunteer workers are also invited to bring an interested friend. The luncheon is 75 cents. The awarding of pins will take place after the 12:45 p.m. lunch is served in the Conference Room of the hospital. Then, the program chairman, Mrs. Ernest Greenwood, will present Stanley Lantz, assistant archaeologist of Carnegie Museum, and president of the Kinzua chapter No. 18, Pennsylvania Society of Archeology. All board members are requested to attend this special event.

THE PRE-SCHOOL CHILD STUDY GROUP is meeting Monday evening at 6:30 for the annual tureen dinner. A Tupperware Party will follow the dinner, with Mrs. Harold Fulmer the demonstrator. Those who wish to place orders are to do so at this meeting. After the business meeting, Mrs. James Eldridge, Mrs. Darrell Johnson and Mrs. Clair Tremblay will serve refreshments.

THE CHILD DEVELOPMENT STUDY GROUP, not to be confused with the above, will hold its meeting on Tuesday, St. Valentine's Day, at the home of Mrs. Victor Miller, 238 Buchanan street at 8:15 p. m. The mothers will be especially interested to hear what Robert Hammerbeck of the YMCA has to say of his class of "Aqua-Tots", all of whom learned, or are learning, to swim under his professional coaching in the YMCA pool. Refreshments will be served after the program.

WOMAN'S CLUB BRIDGE SCORES at the Thursday afternoon session averaged 28 for four tables. Honors went to: First, Mrs. D. E. Conaway and Mrs. Eric Wilkinson, 33 1/2; Second, Mrs. Gaston Hamilton and Miss Felicia Lucia, 27 1/2; Third and Fourth were tied, Mrs. Albert Loranger and Mrs. William Fuellhart, Mrs. Sidney Blackman and Mrs. Shuri Glass, the two sets of partners having scores of 25.

MINIATURES: The Glade Township Firemen's Auxiliary is meeting Monday night at 7:30. Several important subjects are scheduled and a get-together with the firemen is being planned for March 11th.

A reminder to interested nurses in Warren County that Miss Lois M. Meyer, Consumer Specialist for the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare Food and Drug Administration, will be the speaker at the Monday meeting at 8 o'clock on the third floor of the Warren State Hospital Nurses Home.

The Golden Age Valentine dinner will be held at the Warren YWCA on Monday at 12:30 p. m. Bring table service and a tureen, also a Valentine for exchange.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Often parents ask you to print something because, as they put it, "Teen-agers will listen to you, Ann Landers, when they will not listen to us, even though we say the same thing."

I'm a teen-ager who is making a similar plea. Parents will listen to you, Ann Landers, when they will not listen to us. So please print my letter.

Ever since I can remember, my folks have been promising me a bedroom of my own. I am a 16-year-old girl who is still sharing a room with a bratty 14-year-old brother. Last night I asked again for a bedroom of my own. Dad said, "It doesn't pay now. You'll be going away to college in two years."

My dreams of privacy have been shattered and I am sick at heart. Please help me.—FISHBOWL EXISTENCE.

DEAR FISHBOWL: If your parents give you a bedroom of your own immediately, they will be about four years late.

When a girl reaches her 12th birthday all fellas should be out of her bedroom, even very young brothers who may seem like babies to their parents.

If your Mom and Dad won't take my word for it ask them to check with the family physician.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My daughter Bernice is a quiet, hard working person who everybody takes advantage of. Please tell me what should be done about the latest incident.

A neighbor asked Bernice if she would help her cut strips of material for rag rugs. This is a tedious job and most people wouldn't do it for ANY price. The neighbor paid Bernice $3.50 for the evening's work and asked her if she would come back and help her sew the strips together.

Bernice put in three nights' work, and she even brought her own sewing machine. As Bernice was leaving, the neighbor handed her a little decorator pillow which probably came from the dime store and said, "This is to show my appreciation. I decided not to insult you by offering you money as I did the first night you helped me."

My daughter was stunned, but she took the pillow, said "Thank you" and left.

My husband thinks she should go back and ask for money. What do you say?—SICK OF CHEAPSKATES

DEAR SICK: Since Bernice was paid for the first evening's work it was a logical assumption that she would be paid for the additional time. When the woman handed her the pillow, Bernice should have handed it back and said, "Thank you, but I don't need a pillow. I need money."

Consider this incident closed, but the next time Bernice agrees to "help someone out" I hope she has a clear-cut understanding of the pay in advance.

CONFIDENTIAL TO CONCERNED MOTHER OF HIGH-STRUNG DAUGHTER: Tell her that shouting to make children follow directions is like using a horn to steer a car and it will get her the same results.

When necking becomes petting, watch out! To learn how the smart girl keeps both her dignity and her boy friend, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Necking and Petting—And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

JANE LEE SEIGWORTH (McGarry Studio)

Spring Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Seigworth of Leeper, announce the engagement of their daughter, Jane Lee, to Robert L. Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Baker of Sheffield.

Miss Seigworth is a graduate of North Clarion High School at Leeper, and is presently employed at the New Process Company in Warren. Her fiancé is a graduate of East Hickory High School and is employed by Sylvania Electric Products in Warren.

A spring wedding is being planned.

The Halls Of Ivy

James A. Beach, son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Beach of 9 West street, is one of three students selected to be advisors for the Probation Department in Williamsport, Pennsylvania. He is a Junior at Lycoming College in that city. The three advisors, who were named by the Dean of the College, will be working with teenage boys.

The honor of the appointment carries with it a certain remuneration which is applied to the students' college costs.

Mr. Beach is a graduate of Warren Area High School, class of 1964. He is also the only resident advisor for his dormitory which has eighteen students.

Mended Hearts Teas Here And In Erie

Today a Mended Hearts Tea, with all those who have had heart surgery as the honored guests, is taking place at 3 o'clock in the Hospitality Room of the Northwest Savings and Loan Building. It has been emphasized that the "all" includes the very young who have had such surgery, as well as adults.

On Sunday afternoon, February 19, the Mended Hearts Society of Erie will hold an Anniversary Tea to mark the first year of the founding of the society. The affair will take place at the Erie Center for the Blind, at 24th and Cherry streets, from 3 to 5 o'clock. A King and Queen of Mended Hearts will also be selected at this time.

Members and their friends, as well as anyone interested in the aims of the society are invited to attend. Many of the members are from the counties of Warren, Crawford, Venango and Mercer, as well as from the nearby States of New York and Ohio. Out-of-town guests will be especially welcome to the affair.

Mrs. Evelyn Lynn, founder and executive director of the society who is the administrative secretary of the Cardiovascular Unit, the Children's Cardiac Clinic and the Cardiac Work Evaluation Unit at Hamot Hospital, felt the organization was a necessity in light of the advance in heart surgery and research.

Mrs. Lynn says: "There is no longer need to push the 'panic' button when heart disease strikes in the home. Today, less than 15 years after the first open heart surgery in the world was performed, children and adults with heart defects have a much better chance than ever before to have the defect corrected surgically. Recent advances in diagnosis and heart surgery now make it possible to operate with considerable success on conditions which were once thought to be quite hopeless."

The primary purpose of the organization are to visit and encourage persons who are anticipating or recovering from cardiac or cardiovascular surgery; to provide information of specific educational value; conduct suitable programs of social and informative events for all members; to further cardiovascular research and to establish a blood bank for providing donors for heart surgery.

At present members of the advisory board include: Dr. George J. D'Angelo, Dr. John B. Tredway, Dr. William L. Underhill, Dr. John J. Eckberg, Dr. John E. W. Baay and Mr. Walter J. Yahn.

Applications for membership and for receiving copies of the society's monthly publication CARD-YAK may be obtained by writing to the Mended Hearts Society, 3423 Pacific Ave., Erie, Pa. 16506.

Close to 100 members from all sections of Northwestern Pennsylvania, Ohio and New York State are charter members of the organization. They include those who have undergone corrective heart surgery, those who have had a member of their family with corrective heart surgery and those who are generally interested in furthering the efforts of the society and the heart research program in Erie.

Guests Will Attend Meeting At Woman's Club This Monday

Woman's Club members may bring guests to the Art Department meeting on Monday, February 13, at 2 p.m., at which time Mrs. David Potter will present a program, "Religious Art Through the Years."

Mrs. Potter, well-known in the community through her writings, her art and her many civic and cultural activities, as long been interested in the history of art, adding to her formal education in that line through independent study and travel. She served on the committee that assembled, over a period of years, the fine collection of reproductions of masterpieces of religious art for the First Presbyterian Church, a collection that has created regional as well as local interest.

Mrs. Donald S. Mervine will be the hostess at the tea following Mrs. Potter's program.

Heloise Hints

DEAR HELOISE:

A good way to get lint off a heavy garment in a dryer is to take an old Turkish towel (be sure it's been washed many times) and put it in the dryer with the garment.

Let the clothes "dry" at cold temperature for a while. You'll be surprised at the way the lint comes off and how clean the garment will be.

Mrs. Arnold Ludwig

Honey, we tried it. You're just as good and right as gold. But be sure you use your OLDEST bath towel.

I found that if you slightly sprinkle, then wring the Turkish towel thoroughly . . . the moist towel catches the lint that fly through the air pockets as the dryer tumbles. We tumbled a woolen suit on LOW setting 10 minutes. The minute amount of moisture did a great pressing job.

And did those wrinkles go away.

Be sure to remove and hang garment as soon as the dryer stops.

Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

To clean coffee scum from vacuum bottles, I set the bottle in my sink and add three heaping teaspoons of baking soda.

I pour in some boiling water until it foams over, then fill it to the top again. After I let this set a few moments I'm

DAR History

Medals Awarded

For Excellence

Members of Joseph Warren chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met Thursday evening, Feb. 9, at the YWCA.

Miss Jane Kieshauser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Kieshauser, 105 Willowby ave., Warren, and Miss Nancy Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Allen Johnson, 164 Pleasant Drive, Warren, received the D.A.R. History Medal. This medal is presented to the girl having the highest grades in American history during her high school courses.

Mrs. C. L. Thompson and Mrs. L. C. Niederlander served the guests and members from an attractively decorated table.

Mrs. J. Quentin Holt and Miss Nancy Wickstrom were chairman and co-chairman of the hostess committee for the evening.

A short business meeting was conducted before and after the Regent, Mrs. O. Gilbert Johnson.

The honored guests and their mothers were then introduced to the members.

Women's Church Groups

The regular meeting of the Betha Circle of the Epworth Methodist Church was recently held with thirteen present. A lunch was served in the church social room by Twila Larson and Marie Lowe. The business meeting which followed had "The Meaning of Lent" for its devotional theme, led by Mrs. Larson.

Plans were made for the Mid-Winter Picnic on February 27, sponsored by the regular W.S.C.S.

Mrs. John Anderson will entertain in her home for the March meeting, with Mrs. Alfred Johnson assisting. Members were asked to bring old sheets to be torn and rolled into bandages. They will be sent to Dr. Eschtruth in the Congo.

The Tippereth Israel Sisterhood held its February meeting in the Hospitality Room of the Northwest Savings and Loan Association Building. An informal panel discussion was held on the subject of "Discrimination". Heading the panel was Mrs. Donald H. Spencer as moderator, with Mrs. Henri LeMeur, Mrs. Bert Levinson, Miss Daphne Chase and Mrs. James Potter, the members of the panel.

At the conclusion of the panel program, members and guests enjoyed a question and answer period.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Nahum Levinson, Mrs. Jake Levinson, Mrs. Abe Schwartz and Miss Goldie Gordon.

The Mary Louise Whitlock Circle of the Grace Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. Oliver Kyler of 416 Prospect street with seventeen members present. Mrs. Esther Smith presided at the business session and Mrs. Howard Smith led devotions on the topic "What Is Lent and What It Will Mean To Us".

The evening was spent in sorting used greeting cards, and getting them ready to send to a missionary in Burma. Mrs. Georgia Grosch and Mrs. Knud Knudsen assisted Mrs. Kyler in serving refreshments.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Vada Kyler, 202 North Irvine street.

The Josephine Kriz Circle of Grace Methodist, met recently at the home of Mrs. Arthur Cobb, 21 Schantz st., with nineteen members present.

Mrs. Ralph Finley led the devotional program. Mrs. LeRoy Hammerbeck was in charge of the business meeting and Mrs. Earl Mohnkern was program leader. She read several interesting and informative letters from Miss Josephine Kriz, missionary to India.

Homemade candy and other items were brought to the meeting to be sent to several service men whom the circle members are remembering.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Arthur Cobb and Mrs. Robert Watson.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE:

Help! Please ask your readers for tips on what to do with the gallon plastic milk jugs. These jugs are too good to throw away, but they are crowding me out of house and home. I have almost a hundred of them.

V. Sears

DEAR HELOISE:

I had a small clock that couldn't be fixed.

I made a beautiful paper weight from it by taking off the front, very carefully removing the hands and placing a snapshot of my children inside.

I used the glass front for a pattern to cut the picture the right size.

Very attractive and useful.

Gas Service Will Be Sought By Bear Lake

By PEGGY OSBORNE
Bear Lake Council, at its meeting this week, took initial action in an effort to get gas into the community. It was voted to contact the Pennsylvania Gas Company in the hope of interesting the utility in extending its lines that residents of the town might be served.
Council also approved the 1967 budget at the February meeting, which was under the direction of Gerry Smith, president. Another matter which received attention was the deplorable condition of the roads in the area and it was decided to contact the State Highway Department.
The protest on the roads in the town and outskirts is reported to have received a prompt response from the department with a promise of early attention.
On February 2nd, the Bear Lake Fire Department was called to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Newhouse where a flash fire threatened.
Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Cornish Jr. have gone to Florida for a few weeks.
Mrs. Anna Zalik is a patient at Corry Hospital, where she was taken on Tuesday.
The Bear Lake ambulance was called to Lottsville Sunday evening following a crash near that place.
Miss Linda Bemus was removed to a Jamestown hospital by the Bear Lake ambulance Wednesday morning.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.
FOR SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1967
ARIES (March 21 to April 20)—A somewhat mild day, yet you may be able to do more than you anticipate or realize is possible. Much depends upon what you take for granted and what you initiate.
TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)—Don't work at anything without knowing proper procedure. Find out what associates think and understand. Some excellent progress indicated through alert, comprehensive thinking.
GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)—There's a tendency now to put the cart before the horse, to work at cross-purposes. Do YOUR chores well and do not worry about what others are doing. Control emotions.
CANCER (June 22 to July 23)—Avoid having too many irons in the fire at one time. The truly ambitious can well be proud of new achievements possible now. Tone down antagonistic leanings.
LEO (July 24 to August 23)—False impressions, violent altercations may crop up in your vicinity. Be ready, eager to quell them. There's more than one way to get around an undesirable set-up: Work at it.
VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)—A change can be fine, unpleasant, or just nondescript. With an unavoidable one, you should make the most of it and improve with it. A good day for furthering your goals.
LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)—Let it not be said that you are lacking in adequacy or are not striving. Generous influences now proffer new routes and means for better-than-average gains.
SCORPIO (October 24 to November 22)—This day calls for patience, fair play and understanding. You can give all this—and profit by it. In difficult matters, take sound precautions.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21)—Let no labor be in vain. Even if the results you seek are not immediately forthcoming, your well-done effort WILL make a favorable impression. Curb extremes; be at ease.
CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)—Here the time-wasting bug may be busy again. Not that you should turn due leisure hours into work ones, but aim for that really happy medium.
AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)—A frivolous attitude should be avoided now. Study your limitations, keep the "small" things in order and there will be much to celebrate.
PISCES (February 20 to March 20)—Neptune, favorable aspect, stimulates incentive and old-fashioned "steam"—for matters needing these requirements. For desired quiet, you must put yourself in the right frame of mind.
YOU BORN TODAY have a multitude of assets for top-level success and the inner verve to brighten the circumstances in which you find yourself. Home and family loyalty are strong here, as are inherited traditions and a love of life on the whole. You often see advantages in corners others miss completely; would make able supervisors, assistants, educators. Develop patience with the slower or longer-run trials, for you really understand them. You wear your own energy down reaching for too much at times. Clear-cut action and stick-to-itiveness are your forte. Birthdate of: Thomas A. Edison, inventor.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

HIDDEN CAUSES OF ASTHMA
Asthmatic attacks usually occur at night and when the physician enters the room diagnosis is easy because of the typical gasping inspirations and wheezing expirations. The sufferer usually is leaning forward on a table or sitting in bed with the legs crossed and the elbows on the knees. Several minutes after receiving an injection of epinephrine, wheezing subsides, coughing starts, and the victim breathes easier after the tenacious sputum is dislodged.
Not every siege is eased this rapidly; now and then a second injection is needed. Today these stubborn cases are given ACTH or cortisone, which rarely fails to bring improvement.
Bronchial asthma is a form of allergy in which there is a sensitivity to something eaten, inhaled, or touched. These irritants must be avoided for prevention but before this can be done the culprits must be known. Skin tests are of value for this purpose when the offenders are inhaled or touched but are unreliable so far as foods are concerned.

Dietary factors are detected via the elimination diet but a particular item need not be kept off the menus for more than three weeks if no improvement ensues. When food is responsible the asthmatic improves when the item is avoided, and develops symptoms after eating it.
The emotional aspects of allergy become suspect when all the tests, trials, and desensitizing agents fail to control the condition. In such instances feelings of fear, anger, guilt, or rejection may be playing a role in precipitating the bouts.
Infection is a likely cause if the bout develops at a time when the throat is red or the sinuses are acutely inflamed. The antibiotics may be needed to bring about relief.
Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

PAPER OF THE FUTURE
CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — The metropolitan newspaper of the future may become more a news magazine than a media of record, a University of Illinois professor said.
Prof. Gene Graham, speaking before a faculty forum, said smaller, localized papers were beginning to serve people on an "intimate interest level" better than large city dailies.
He said the trend in American life away from "giantism" has begun to affect the role of newspapers.
"We have just passed through a trend to giantism, to nationalization of thought and more than a degree of conformism for which the mass media are in a great measure responsible," he said.

WEEK'S PREVIEW

Some programs recommended for children's viewing are scheduled for this coming week. One is the Children's Film Festival series at 4 p. m. Sunday on CBS channels. CBS brings back "The Wizard of Oz" at 6 p. m. Sunday and "Pinocchio" at 7:30 p. m. Monday. NBC has "Ice Capades" at 8 p. m. Monday. ABC's "Holiday on Ice" at 10 p. m. Thursday is a little late in the evening for youngsters, though.

NBC also has a Bell Telephone Hour Sunday evening, a Bob Hope Comedy Special Wednesday night, followed at 10 p. m. by the Golden Globe Awards. CBS News has a special Tuesday night, "Vietnam Perspective: The Air War in the North," Also has a special Tuesday night, "King of Kings," a tour of Westminster Abbey and a perusal of its 900-year-old history.

WPSX-TV, Ch. 3, our educational-television outlet, has a variety of offerings. For poetry lovers, there is a 90-minute special on the life and work of Hart Crane Monday night, and for the excitement-prone NET starts a new Tuesday night series called Experiment which leads off with "Attack Patterns of Sharks."

One of our favorites comes along on Ch. 3 Wednesday night. This is the "News in Perspective" series which appears monthly. Lester Markel, Tom Wicker and Max Frankel of the New York Times analyze the stories behind the headlines. Play of the Week the same night offers "Henry IV, Part I."

With Spring not too far away, another new series is well-timed. This is "Home Grounds Improvement" starting Thursday at 10 p. m. "Great Decisions 1967" at 9 p. m. Friday will examine "India and Pakistan: What Hope for Stability on the Subcontinent?" NET Playhouse at 9:30 p. m. Friday presents "Otoeti," about a boy spellbound by imaginative myths and confused by the adult world.

HOW MUCH DO COMMERCIALS COST?

Have you ever wondered, after sitting through quarter, half and whole minutes of commercials, just how much money is spent on those video pitches designed to sell products to make you live better, feel better, look better and smell better?

Broadcast Advertisers Reports has a new weekly monitoring service that analyzes and estimates the costs, program by program, network by network, daytime and nighttime. The figures you are about to read are the average costs of one commercial minute, including time and talent costs, and networks agree that they are close to actual rates paid.

For prime time evening commercials, the price ranges from a low of $21,000 (ABC's "Dating Game on Saturday night") to the CBS "Lucy Show" on Monday night which gets $65,500. This latter figure was topped by the Bob Hope Christmas Tour Special which commanded $85,000 per minute commercial.

Weekday programs get from $3,000 to $14,500 per minute of advertising. Saturday daytime rates run from $2500 (Cool McCool) to as much as $35,000 for the average sports program. Sunday's daytime rates vary from ABC's "Linus" in the morning at $3300 to as high as $64,000 which the Pro Bowl games commanded.

News programs start at $6000 and spiral upward to $26,900 for CBS Evening News. NBC starts the day with "Today" spots at $7900 per minute and ends with "Tonight" at $12,300.

These figures covered the period of the first 29 days in January and showed CBS advertising rates to run somewhat higher than the other two networks. Total sales for the 29-day period were: CBS, $53.3 million; NBC, $43.6 million; and ABC, $35.2 million.

And remember who is actually paying! Every product you buy has a hidden advertising cost included in the sale price.

PEOPLE & PROGRAMS

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS can be strained in more ways than one. The British Broadcasting Company bought 13 episodes of the American-produced "Rat Patrol" series but is dropping it after showing six because British viewers complain that the North African campaign was being won by American GIs! That's patriotism!

MORE WAS SWOLLEN than Ernie Terrell's eye in the recent Clay-Terrell championship bout. The fight may gross as much as $2 million from domestic and international radio-TV broadcast rights and sales, CATV and theater TV, plus the gate receipts.

THE CURTAIN GOES DOWN on Chrysler Theatre which NBC-TV is dropping at the end of this season.

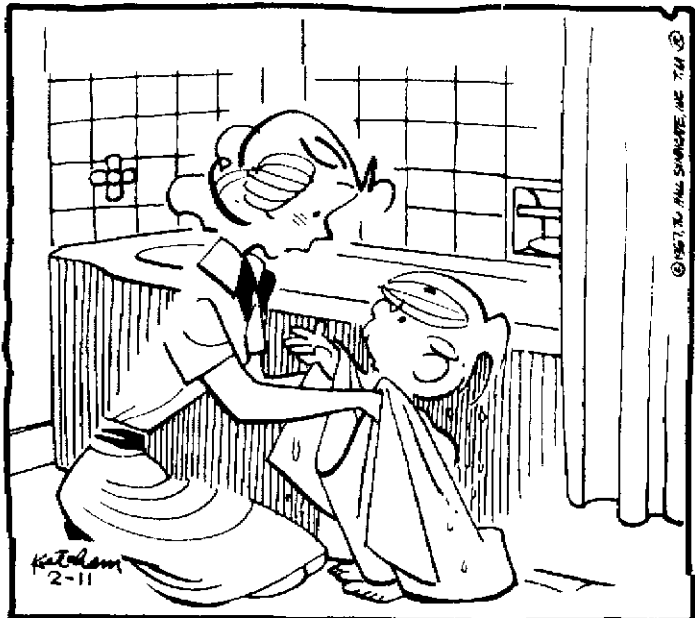

REMEMBER THE COLGATE COMEDY HOUR which took its last pie-in-the-face in 1955? It's coming back early in May on NBC-TV with about a dozen of the nation's top comedians demonstrating their individual styles of humor.

3-D TV PICTURES are an exciting possibility for the future. Both RCA and IBM are experimenting in this field.

LEARNING DIRECTLY

MIAMI (AP) — Dade County oceanography teachers, seeking to broaden their knowledge, are being sent directly to the source of their material — the nearby ocean floor.

Donning masks and snorkels, the teachers are taking special underwater courses in oceanography.

John C. Green,

Pastor, The Russell Bible Church

The Bible is a Divine Book! It was produced by the Divine Mind. Human beings acted as recorders or secretaries. They did not, however, always know the meaning of what they wrote.

Since the Bible is a Divine Book, produced by the Divine Mind, and inspired by the Divine Spirit, it is not logical that it will take the Divine Mind to understand its contents? The Apostle Paul answers this question in I Corinthians 2:13- "But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, for they are spiritually discerned."

In other words, the meaning of what the Bible really says is revealed by the Holy Spirit. The Bible plainly teaches that the true Christian possesses the Holy Spirit, the very Spirit of Jesus Christ. Listen to the testimony of the Bible on this subject: Acts 5:32- "And not only are we witnesses to these facts, but also the Holy Spirit which God bestows on those who obey him." (Berkely Version), Romans 8:14- "For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God."

When a person possesses the Holy Spirit, he literally possesses Jesus Christ in Spirit-form, the very mind of Jesus Christ. This the Bible affirms as reality. We read in I Corinthians 2:16- "... we have the mind of Christ."

Scripture reveals that this is not human intelligence or brilliance. This is the message of I Corinthians 1:17-21 in the words of St. Paul- "For Christ sent me . . . to preach the gospel: not with the wisdom of words, lest the cross of Christ be made of none effect. For the preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness; but unto us which are saved it is the power of God. For it is written, I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent. Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this world? hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world? For after that in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe."

The true Christian, in possessing the Holy Spirit, that is the mind, the active thought processes of Jesus Christ Himself, actually possesses the wisdom of God. This is clearly taught in I Corinthians 1:22-24: "For the Jews require a sign, and the Greeks seek after wisdom: But we preach Christ crucified, unto the Jews a stumblingblock, and unto the Greeks foolishness; But unto them which are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ the power of God and the wisdom of God."

The true Christian, then, being the possessor of the very wisdom of Jesus Christ Himself, namely the Holy Spirit of God, can begin the work of spiritual understanding in respect to the Bible. Listen to the words of Christ in John 14:26- "But the Comforter, which is the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, He shall teach you all things. . . ." John 16:13- Howbeit when He the Spirit of truth, is come, He will guide you into all truth. . . ." Psalm 23:3, speaking of the Lord, says: "He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake."

The truth of the revelation of God Almighty, contained in the message of the entire Bible, is ours for the understanding, provided we meet God's requirements. The Bible, being inspired by the Holy Spirit of God, can be understood only as we possess the same Spirit that inspired it! Unless or until we possess God's Holy Spirit, we shall never be successful in understanding what God, through the writers of the Bible, has caused to be written for our personal good and benefit, even if we possess the greatest intellect of all time and were to study the Bible for a million lifetimes!

How do we become the possessor of the Spirit of Jesus Christ? Very simply, we must be willing to confess that we have transgressed God's Holy, Perfect Law, and, therefore, are a sinner. We must be willing to repent, turn from and forsake our sin and rebellion against God and His Law, and accept Jesus Christ as personal Saviour, sincerely determining to live obediently to Him in the light of the Bible. We then receive the Holy Spirit, "which God bestows on those who obey Him."

Then and then only do we possess the Divine Power necessary to understand the Bible and its message addressed to individuals and nations!

PRESSURE VESSEL ENGINEER

Because of rapid growth (22% increase in 1966) and desire to expand technical capabilities, Air Products and Chemicals is seeking a Senior Design Specialist. This individual will be responsible for specialized process equipment designs, including distillation columns, unique heat exchangers and catalyst beds. These designs will involve large thermal gradients and accompanying stress analysis. An engineering computer is available to minimize routine calculations. Candidates should have a BS degree in engineering and 4 to 8 years pressure vessel experience. Air Products offers excellent benefits, including relocation expenses, and salary commensurate with experience. This position is located at Corporate Headquarters in Allentown.

Send details of qualifications to: Mr. D. E. Pryor, P.O. Box 528-1, Allentown, Penna. 18105

McClelland Slated for Judgeship

ERIE — District Attorney
Lindley R. McClelland will be named to the Erie County bench, filling the vacancy resulting from the resignation of Judge Elmer L. Evans, it was learned on good authority yesterday.
The appointment of McClelland, a former county solicitor, will be sent to the State Senate
Tuesday for confirmation by
Gov. Raymond P. Shafer.
Republican Chairman Mortimer E. Graham said, "Any announcement on the judgeship must come from the governor."

McClelland, 50, is a lifelong resident of Girard, where he was born. He has been a trial lawyer for the past 24 years.
He was appointed District Attorney in January 1966 by Judge
Evans, Edward H. Carney and Thomas W. Barber.

Enrollment At Jamestown College Rises

Enrollment of students at Jamestown Community College continued to climb at a steady pace with a total of 1,356 students registered for the 1966-67 in the day and evening divisions of the college.

James A. Gallagher, director of admissions and registrar, reported that 674 students are registered in the day division and 485 enrolled in the evening college in credit courses.
An additional 197 persons are taking non-credit courses in the evening division.

Gallagher pointed out that enrollment this year compares favorably over last year's figure when 1,123 students were registered in the day and evening divisions. This year shows an increase of 233 more students over last year and indicates a definite upward trend as the college continues to attract more students from the area.

In checking back to 1964-65
enrollment figures, Mrs. Gallagher noted that the increase is continuing to rise steadily noting that 1,019 students were registered during that year.

The registrar also announced that on February 18 the college will administer the American College Test to about 290 students.

Gets Jail Term In Morals Case

ERIE — A Corry man was given a 4-to-23 1/2 month jail term on a charge of corrupting a minor's morals in court here Wednesday.

Arland L. Edwards, 26, RD 3, Corry, was remanded to county jail and fined $250 by Judge James B. Dwyer. Edwards was convicted by a criminal court jury Nov. 18.

He was accused of taking a 16-year-old Corry girl into New York state for illicit purposes about a year ago.

Recreation Facility Sought in Housing

MEADVILLE — A federal official Thursday strongly recommended a community recreation facility for Meadville, in conjunction with, but not part of the planned multi-story housing unit for the elderly.

Troy Chapman, social services adviser with the Renewal Assistance Administration of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, Philadelphia office, said he agreed with the Meadville Housing Authority that an attempt to put an enlarged recreation and social center into plans for the public housing facility probably would delay the project.

Horn Appointed

ERIE — Appointment of Robert Horn to a position as a state revenue agent for northwestern
Pennsylvania was announced
Thursday by Erie County Republican party chairman Mortimer Graham. Horn will assume his new position with the Department of Revenue Tuesday.
He is a former Erie County Democratic party chairman but deserted the Dems to support Governor Raymond Shafer last year.
